Doctor of Ministry in Christian Preaching

Beeson's Doctor of Ministry is designed to strengthen the preaching and teaching of God's Word by those who are actively engaged in Christian ministry. In the ministry research project phase of the program, Anglican students can work with an Anglican adviser to focus on topics relevant to their context and tradition.

What is Anglicanism?

The Anglican tradition is a way of being Christian whose members worship the triune God with the Scriptures, the sacraments, and the ancient Christian liturgy. Anglicans follow what they call the via media, drawing upon the best of catholic worship and evangelical preaching for life in union with God —Father, Son, and Holy Spirit— devoted to “the beauty of holiness” (Ps. 96:9).

History of Anglicanism

Two of the most important figures in Anglican history are Thomas Cranmer (1489-1556) and Richard Hooker (1554-1600). Cranmer was an Anglican martyr and Archbishop of Canterbury during the English Reformation. The Book of Common Prayer is largely indebted to Cranmer, and he was a major contributor to what eventually became the Thirty-nine Articles. Hooker (1554-1600) established the distinctive ethos of Anglicanism with his great work, Of the Laws of Ecclesiastical Polity (1594-97).

With a membership of approximately million worldwide,

the Anglican Communion is the third largest Christian communion in the world, after the Roman Catholic Church and the Eastern Orthodox Church.

The institute is devoted to the gospel of Jesus Christ, orthodox Anglicanism in keeping with the Great Tradition, the Book of Common Prayer, the doctrinal commitments of the Thirty-nine Articles and the final authority of Holy Scripture for faith and life.
